The Internet is obviously hell.

You might be noticing yet, but usually I know there's a lot of fucked up shit on the Internet due to age-restrictions, restrictions, bans, blocking things, censorship, etc. However, it's somewhat dystopia, which is pretty bad enough, but in a different reality like in the Furuniverse, the Internet is utopia, where I wrote journals and created concept arts, which it's separated from where I decided that I wanted to go to a better place. The year is 1993 in the Furuniverse.

So, in my opinion, I chose the date May 1st, 1993, which is a better way where I wanted to wake up in the new dream for being reincarnated as a tall 6'1" anthropomorphic husky with my 3 tails trapped inside my entire body, but me also known as KROVI (Russian: КРОВИ), which is in the bedroom in located in 2-B Dormitories is located along the Sector 2-B line of the HIVAC Port Combine Transit System before my 17th Birthday in May 12th, so I'll be featured mainstream media coverage for doing public interview, where I'll be considered "60 Minutes Away Ahead", which I will strongly remember where I wrote on my journals, but I usually will do something differently, so yeah, after security guards or officers taken me into public interview, so I'll be reunite with them and usually including my dogs, where I wrote on my personal journals, but I don't mind that therians will be reincarnated as an anthropomorphic animals as therian canines, therian felines, therian deers, Therian skunks, or furry-therian hybrids if you identified both as a furry and a therian, but must be I chose is mid-1995 to present just like I made a very long description on Furry Selection Basement Journals and Online Docs and Furuniverse Reality Basement Collection, which you will be Invited to join my belief, but it's part of my strong personal belief where I believe in the Furuniverse and two-step reincarnation. Earth Is generally hell.

As I noticed that I know there is a lot messed up shit in this world, but unfortunately, it is extremely difficult to make this world into utopia it's because of weapons & violence, wars, war crimes, threats, terrorism, religion conflict, protests, poverty, and more, where there's too many people ruined their lives and almost ruined their lives for a year, after year, after year, after year, after year, and after year, which the list goes on, but in fact, Earth is not perfect at all, it's somewhat dystopia. As I said, this world is not utopia and perfect at all because life, society, environment, and other things in this world aren't perfect at all, but it's pretty impossible to make Earth into utopia and yeah, truly. So, that is why I'm going to live on Furoria the 4th planet from the Fursun in the Furstar System for living a much better place after I reincarnated as a tall 6'1" anthropomorphic husky with healthy weight, 3 tails, strong muscles, but not like being a muscular anthropomorphic animal person, and balanced torso, which I would live in HIVAC Port Combine the very famous massive underground military-scientific research facility or somewhere else for a while before rebirth as an anthropomorphic husky girl for living with new wealthy famous family, but I'm not the only one who is the Furuniverse believer.

My Ideation Update.

So, I am thinking of I would be reincarnated as a tall anthro silver fox or a tall anthro coyote trapped inside my entire body before reborn as an anthro husky girl, but born as a baby anthro husky girl for living with new wealthy famous family and why not? However, I would choose 2 of anthro species, but either reincarnated as an anthro silver fox or an anthro coyote before reborn as an female anthro husky for living with rich family, so yeah, I would do that to write a journal on DeviantArt and then post & write a online journal on Google Docs and then posted online, but that's all. NEVER FORGET 9/11 (Edited)

Today is the 24th anniversary of 9/11, one of the most horrifying and notorious terrorist attacks ever occurred in the United States in September 11th, 2001, but it happened way back then before when I was born, so yeah, where the original trade center was apparently collapsed and destroyed before starting construction of the new World Trade Center and 9/11 Memorial & Museum and then completed it, this is not a joke, period.

The Year Is 1990 ZE, Which I'll Be Reincarnated In

This month is October, so this is a long one. I definitely chose the date October (Howltober) 15th, 1990 ZE, where I'll be reincarnated as a tall 6'2" anthropomorphic coyote with balanced torso & legs, balanced arm span, 2 tails, strong muscles, but not like being muscular, current feet size, which my feet size is 11, 10.5, or 10 I would say, healthy weight & body fat, balanced neck size, nice fur covered my whole body, and my entire body, which it's balanced trapped inside my entire human body, but me also known as KROVI (Russian: КРОВИ), however, is in the bedroom in located in 2-B Dormitories is located along the Sector 2-B line of the HIVAC Port Combine Transit System before my 15th birthday in May (Maylor) 12th, 1991 ZE so someday I'll be 6'2", which I will definitely be featured mainstream media coverage for doing public interview where I'll be considered "60 Minutes Away Ahead" 'cause I'll strongly remember where I wrote on my journals, but instead, I will do something differently after security guards or officers taken me into public interview, which I'll be reunite with them to become a mythic superstar famous person (including Délphine Revord the anthro black wolf too, which I would have my new mythic girlfriend) before rebirth as an anthro husky girl for living with the rich family who is famous, but occasionally, I believe that I'm a hero, I'm rich, and I would own different kinds of pets that are non-anthros, which I'll own foxes, which either miniature or normal, otters (more like mini otters), raccoons (more like mini raccoons), and fishes in the fish tank, including aquarium snails for my personal belief, so yeah, I feel like owning cats and dogs as pets is such a pain in the butt for me to taking care of, also, if they're being stupid enough, so they're not being smart enough, but speaking having cats and dogs, some similar things like kitites/pestites/pupites & Pup Xs/Pest Xs that are alien baby animal pests, which they're genetically similar to real-world baby animals, but not an exact copy and parallel, some similar guns, some similar vehicle models, similar anthro dog breeds (as species), and some other similar things exist in the Furuniverse, but not an exact copycat and parallel at all, where I wrote on my previous journals on Furry Selection Basement Journals & Online Docs and the very long encyclopedia document called "The Three Habitable Planets In The Furstar System In The Furuniverse The Alternative Real Life Form From Different Reality Encyclopedia", also, I would love to go other dimensions outside of the Furuniverse, so the different things I would love to see, however, dimensions are not parallel universes in the Furuniverse, just like in our reality, but the truth is Interdimensional teleporters are bit common in the Furuniverse it's because the development of the interdimensional teleporters took many long years - far longer to complete than originally expected, which usually occurred in 20th century ZE, also, interdimensional teleporters are locked down/high restricted, but in reality, interdimensional teleporters don't exist, which is only one reality. However, in my opinion, I will include my dogs that are non-anthros, where I wrote on my previous personal journals, which they live in another dimension outside of the Furuniverse, where unfortunately, Shadow the husky is disappeared, which he lives in cloudy lands in Super Mario Galaxy-type furry dimension, Frankie the small young dog, Al, Hina & Lily the twin sisters that are puppies, including their parents, step-parents, and older half-brother Scott the young dog live in nice old massive underground pod with the old male anthro duck farmer sleeping in the couch connected with a good old massive farmhouse, and JoJo and his younger sister live in the nice portable home with good old ACs mounted on windows in the nice farmlands in the anthro duck world, the another world in another dimension 'cause everything is definitely united under the same purpose, which I decided that I wanted to go there, however, I am definitely going to cry a lot when I see them and yeah, unfortunately, but speaking of my dogs that live in another dimension, that is my new latest ideation update for my afterlife plan and yeah, that is all I had to say! Almost Done!

YEP!!! This is going to be the last page of the Furry Selection Basement Online Docs that I wanted to write and that's it! Although, I know it took much, much, much longer to develop the Furuniverse (FU-200), the belief system that I founded at least I just wanted to get it done as I can do; instead, it kinda sucks for me to develop my personal belief system in only a single year than I originally expected, I knew it, I know it's hard for me to do it's because it's not easy at all, so anyways. In the Furuniverse, older vehicles and modern vehicles have engines and transmissions, but the technology, layout, and philosophy behind them evolved very differently from Earth's; not just Furoria only, around these non-futuristic habitable planets in the Furuniverse, also, yellow school buses are very common in North Auratheria, which is Auratheria (U.F.S.), Canidland, and Somborerio, very common in some parts in Xianyora, which is Ducklandia, Liberen, and pretty common in some parts in Zulekore, however, definitely not universally common on Furoria, but all handicapped-accessible yellow school buses with wheelchair lifts are usually built with low wheel wells and full 4-line layout interior because of much enough space, which it can have maximum amounts of wheelchair capacity (including handicapped-accessible school-bus-style commercial buses and handicapped-accessible shuttle buses too with foldaway seats), apparently, many older & mid-generation school buses are generic-type sometimes with some of similar school bus bodies, but not an exact copycat and parallel and many of older and mid-generation school buses are very similar to International S-Series Schoolmasters, International 3700s/3800s, International 3000s and 3900s, Freightliner FS-65S, Blue Bird All Americans, Blue Bird CV200S, Thomas Saf-T-Liners, and some of other similar models, including some of many similar school bus bodies too like Carpenter, Blue Bird, AmTran, and some more, but definitely not an exact copycat and parallel, however, usually built with 3- (only older ones), 4-, 5- (usually on mid-generation and modern ones), or 6-speed automatics (usually on mid-generation and modern ones), just like on our planet Earth, which 3- and 4-speed automatics sound profiles and shift behaviors that are very similar to Allison AT545s are similar heavy-duty automatics or manual transmissions (only older ones), also, older ones, mid-generation ones, and modern ones commonly powered by diesel or gasoline engines, just like Earth's! Many of older and mid-generation school buses are diesel-powered, which they use inline-6s, v6s (only older ones), or v8s; some of many older ones use turbocharged diesel engines, mostly older ones have naturally aspirated diesel engines, and all mid-generation ones usually use turbocharged diesel engines, just like moderns ones and there are many of older buses and school buses that are gasoline-powered, which they use inline-6s (only older ones), v6s (only older ones), v8s, or v10s! However, all of older and mid-generation ones use gasoline engines, but all of modern gasoline-powered conventional school buses use with v8s or v10s (including school-bus-style commercial buses too), just like medium duty vehicles do, but it's not just Furoria only, around these some of non-futuristic habitable planets in the Furuniverse (including other dimensions too, but different kinds), so yeah, as I said, every brands are different than Earth's, but on Furoria, there are only 8 countries that have flags with stars and stripes, which is Auratheria, Ducklandia, and Liberen have flags that are red, white, and blue with stars and stripes, Cubén, Monkania, Suria, Valkoraya, Zulekorese Union have flags with stars and stripes and as I said, this is another very, very long one, and I believe that I would fix or restore old vehicles for working together with them, and be a substitute school bus driver only sometimes, but maybe... which after I reincarnated as an anthro coyote before reborn as an anthro husky girl for living with famous rich family, but in reality, driving petrol-powered cars that can easily exceed 100 mph or 160 km/h just doesn't safe or comfortable and shit, which it's too risky and not a good idea for me to drive. However, it's nice if I own a Tesla with an autonomous system, so I would ride on it, and just wanted to like fell asleep, which is much safer to be honest, and speaking of driving petrol powered cars and riding on Tesla, UFO sightings are far too common in our reality, but in the Furuniverse, UFO sightings would never ever happen, I will be there! Farewell... (Plus Another Long Talk)

Oh, coyotes... it feels like this is unprecedented for me, where I worked for months and months into nearly a single year, in which usually I wrote on personal journals and created concept arts with sometimes using ChatGPT to help me out, I knew it! Thank God, 2025 is one of craziest year for me I've been noticed yet, in which I've been developed the Furuniverse reality for my personal belief so far than I originally expected; yada yada yada, the Furuniverse and other dimensions/realities are not recently based on any real-world events, real-life people and pets; whether they be living or deceased & present or lost, human history, and other things in this reality, although, it isn't so easy for me as dogshit to develop, it is extremely hard instead. I feel like as of my entire life has been positioned to where I'm monitoring wolfpacks in the forest, influence the wolfpacks, brainwash the wolfpacks, and people are souls not like monitoring cats, coyotes or coyote packs, dogs, raccoons, or other kinds of animals, but it's about the stories that are between fact and fiction. However, it's braving, it's fearless, it's influencing, it's rising, it's peaceful, and yeah, pretty often though, so anyways. Previously, I've talked about where I believe that I'll own foxes, which either miniature (fennec fox-type) or normal, otters (more like mini otters), raccoons (more like mini raccoons), and fishes (which in the fish tank, including aquarium snails) as pets that are non-anthros for my post-reincarnation, but I believe that I would own hamsters, pocket-sized foxes or teacup foxes that are similar size as hamsters, miniature wolves, and miniature coyotes, in which miniature wolves and miniature coyotes that are both smaller than wild ones, and similar size as real-world medium dogs, in which they're semi-medium-sized and yeah, Thank God, bunch of non-anthro animals I would own, in which I'm too crazy to take care of. However, they live a very long time after they grew quickly from their young stages, also, their usually far more intelligent than real-world domesticated animals, including my dogs too, which they live in another reality (excluding Shadow the husky that I used to have one when I was a kid), although, they don't feel any fear, pain, and suffering, oh yeah! After I reincarnated as an anthro coyote, I would set up the habitat cage for small animals, also, I would love to see bunch of miniature (fennec fox-type) foxes, hamsters, pocket-sized foxes or teacup foxes (similar size as hamsters), mice, rats, and other kinds of small animals that they live in separate habitat cages where it's owned by someone, which they live in private dormitories in HIVAC Port Combine, other diverse research facilities, and homes as well, and pets do exist across other dimensions too as well, so anyways! I know I just can't trust too much about the Internet, and there are so many people posting content online like on TikTok, Instagram, and other social media platforms that are seem boring, diabolical, disoriented, uncouth, unfunny, unoriginal, and unwell like topics are about diagnosis like autism, ADHD, and other kinds of diagnosis, someone's passing, death, or lost (including their pets too), and other unoriginal topics that I just can't trust about it, which it literally disgusts me and unsettles me a lot for no reason, and proof that I'm not joking at all and I just don't really want to talk about it instead; obviously, I know I'm a autistic person, I know it's really, really hard to live in this whole world it's because life can be so damn complicated, hurtful, unfair, and overwhelming, life can be so beautiful, fair, kindness, and lovely too, and it's usually always act of kindness for love. Unfortunately, there are a lot of bad stuffs (or harmful stuffs) on the Internet (including online gaming, and the our planet Earth too) since you might have to be careful with that and yeah, stay careful, stay positive, and stay safe; I will not say something extremely serious for a while, and please always respect me for this time... I know that I am always a Furuniverse believer... Stephen Flint, hopefully you'll enter Furoria one day... I always remember you... tragedies are no joke... it's always about awareness... farewell...

Sincerely,
Rinty SkyCoyote (Because I'm Formerly Rinty SkyHusky)

Bad News...

Unfortunately, my beloved small dog Frankie passed away today, which I had that kinda small dog for 13 years, and I know I feel bad and feel very sorry for Frankie (but I might see him in another dimension after my post-reincarnation and before reborn, which is part of my personal writings before & after I posted on DeviantArt and my previous journals that I wrote on Furry Selection Basement Journals & Online Docs), otherwise, pets don't live that long at all; I won't be do anything and say something serious for a while, as it might hurt a lot of people’s feelings. Please always respect me and my family, friends, and pets' privacy for this time, I'm not joking and not kidding at all.
